...face to face...

Have you had a stroke? Do you have communication difficulties (aphasia)?

The Queen's Award for Voluntary Service Do you feel less confident, isolated or depressed since your stroke?

Would you like to meet other people with aphasia, who are adapting to life after stroke?

Then TALK could be for you ...

What we do at TALK

We support people with aphasia by:

- Enabling you to practise all aspects of communication
- Familiarising you with strategies to aid conversation
- Helping you to rebuild confidence and self esteem

- Encouraging you to become socially independent
- Providing you with information, advice and ongoing support
- Helping you to live positively with aphasia following stroke
- Working closely with local speech therapists, the Stroke Association and other organisations supporting people with aphasia after stroke.

TALK Groups

- TALK has 5 groups in: Ashford, Guildford (2), Knaphill and Walton on Thames
- The groups provide communication and social support to people with aphasia after stroke
- They meet for 2 hours each week
- Volunteers work with recoverers on a one to one basis within the group

- They provide a friendly environment where you can have supported conversations, fun and social interaction
- There is a different theme each week
- Activities may include: discussions, picture, word and number worksheets, quizzes, art therapy, music and sporting activities
- You are encouraged to become involved as much as you want or feel able

Home Visiting Volunteer Service

If you are unable to get to a TALK group, it may be possible for a TALK volunteer to visit you at home. (Subject to availability)

Paying for our services

We ask each recoverer for a small fee in order to secure their place and support the sustainability of the charity. This can either be paid termly (with 10% discount) or weekly to the group. (Further information can be supplied by the Group Coordinator)

• You will meet people who are in a similar situation, adapting to life after stroke and aphasia • We value feedback from stroke recoverers and their families on a regular basis

Aphasia: The Facts

- Aphasia is a communication disability
- Aphasia is also known as dysphasia
- It is caused by damage to the language centre of the brain
- It affects approximately a third of stroke recoverers
- You can have difficulty with speech, understanding, reading or writing
- Aphasia can be mild or severe
- Aphasia does not affect intelligence.

For Referrals and Volunteer Enquiries

Operations Manager

info@talksurrey.org.uk

For Fundraising and Donation Enquiries TALK Fundraiser

- 9 07718 425952
- fundraising@talksurrey.org.uk

Website: www.talksurrey.org.uk

TALK Surrey CIO Charity No. 1176014 Affiliated to the Stroke Association

...face to face ...